Notice dated 4th April 1907.

Notice is hereby given, under Section 48, clause 2, of Mysore Municipal Regulation of 1906, that the following draft Bye-Law, having been approved by the Municipal Council of the Bangalore City, will be taken into consideration with a view to its being brought into force on or after the 1st of May 1907 together with any objection thereto which may be received before that date:—

GENERAL PROCEDURE AND CONDUCT OF BUSINESS.

MYSORE MUNICIPAL REGULATION OF 1906.

Sections 26 (1), (4) and (5), 24 (1) and 46 (a).

1. The ordinary meeting of the Municipal Councillors shall be held at the Municipal Office once a month on the third Thursday of each month at 8 A.M., or on such date and time as may seem expedient to the President.

2. At an hour fixed for a meeting of the Councillors, if a quorum be present, the business of the meeting may at once commence, and, if neither the President nor a Vice-President be present, the meeting may proceed at once to choose a presiding Councillor under Section 26 (5). If the President or the Vice-President arrives after a presiding Councillor has been chosen by the meeting, the presiding Councillor shall leave the chair, and the President or Vice-President shall preside.

3. A Councillor wishing to speak must rise in his place. The Councillor who first rises to speak has the right to be heard. In cases of doubt, the Chairman shall decide who is entitled to speak. No interruption to the speech of a Councillor shall be permitted, except that the Chairman may call the Councillor to order, and any other Councillor may rise and request the Chairman to call the speaker to order.

3 (a). All questions from one Commissioner to another relating to the business of the meeting shall be put through the President.

4. All points of order shall be decided by the Chairman alone, and the Chairman's decision upon a point of order shall not be disputed at the meeting at which it is given.

5. Each Councillor rising to speak shall direct his speech to the question before the meeting or at an amendment which he himself is about to propose, or to a point of order always addressing the President from his place. A Councillor having spoken to a proposition or amendment is not at liberty to speak again to such proposition or amendment.

Provided that the mover of a proposition or amendment shall have a right of reply, after the Chairman has ascertained that no other Councillor entitled to speak, desires to speak.

Provided also, that any Councillor may second a proposition or amendment by saying "I second the proposition" or "amendment," and may reserve his right to speak later.

Provided also, that a Councillor who wishes to explain any misconception of expressions used by him may do so with the permission of the Chairman.

6. Routine resolutions such as recording periodical statements or confirming the proceedings of a Committee, may be put to the meeting by the Chairman without their having been moved or seconded. Propositions regarding the choice of a presiding Councillor, adjournments and the like must be seconded, but need not be in writing.

Except as provided above, every proposition and every amendment must be in writing and must be seconded.

7. After the proposition has been moved and seconded, any Councillor may propose an amendment thereto.

Provided that no Councillor shall be at liberty to propose more than one amendment to any proposition, except when such proposition is for the passing of a budget or of a set of general rules, or is otherwise of such a nature as to require the making of many amendments to different parts of it.

8. The proposer of any amendment shall state it to the Chairman at any time before he resumes the seat. When the mover of a proposition or an amendment has resumed his seat, the Chairman shall read the proposition or amendment to the meeting and ask if any Councillor seconds it, and until the proposition or amendment is seconded, the Chairman shall not permit any discussion on the question. If no Councillor seconds the proposition or amendment, the Chairman shall declare that the proposition or amendment is lost.

9. A Councillor shall not read his speech, but may refresh his memory from notes and may, with the consent of the Chairman, read passages from books or documents cited in behalf of his argument.

10. If a Councillor has given due notice of his intention to move a proposition, and if that Councillor be not present at the meeting, or shall have ceased to be a Councillor before the meeting, or be unwilling to move the proposition of which he has given notice, any Councillor present at the meeting may, with the consent of the Chairman, move the proposition of which notice has been given.

11. An amendment shall usually be in the form of a proposal to omit words from the original proposition, to insert words therein or to add words thereto.

Every amendment must be relevant to the proposition it is proposed to amend, and must be framed so as to form therewith an intelligible and consistent sentence. An amendment which is the direct negative of the proposition shall not be allowed.

12. A Councillor who intends to propose an amendment to a proposition is at liberty to send at any time beforehand to the President or Chairman, his proposed amendment in writing.

13. After a proposition has been proposed and seconded, the proposed amendments which the President or Chairman has received shall be arranged in the order in which, if agreed to, each would stand in the amended proposition, and if any more proposed amendments are handed to the Chairman, they shall be inserted in that order and the Chairman shall call upon the proposers of amendments in that order to move their amendments.

14. Each amendment must be decided before the next amendment is entered upon, but after any amendment has been proposed and seconded, any Councillor may move that the amendment be amended by the omission, insertion or addition of certain words, and the Chairman shall thereupon ask if any other Councillor seconds the proposal, and if seconded, the proposal to amend the amendment shall then become the question before the meeting.

15. No amendment may be made to words which it has already been resolved shall stand part of, or be added to, the original proposition or amendment, except by addition of other words.

16. No amendment may be proposed which is the same, in substance, as a proposition or amendment which has been negatived during that meeting.

17. A proposition or amendment which has been moved and seconded, cannot be withdrawn without the permission of the meeting.

18. The Chairman may move and second propositions or amendments, speak and vote without vacating the chair.

19. When a question is put to the vote, the Chairman shall call for a show of hands, and the Chairman or a Councillor at his request, shall count the hands shown for and against and declare the result. If any Councillor challenge the correctness of the members thus declared, the hands shall be counted a second time. Provided that if any two Councillors request a poll, the Chairman shall call the roll of the Councillors and record on the minutes of the meeting the names of the Councillors voting for and against.

20. A Councillor who is present at a meeting may refrain from voting. If the question before the meeting be the confirmation of a report, or proceedings of a Committee, the members of that Committee may vote. If the conduct of a Councillor be in question, that Councillor may vote.

21. At a meeting the Councillors may resolve themselves into a Committee to consider any subject which is before the meeting. In Committee, a proposition need not be seconded and a Councillor may speak more than once. The decision of the Committee shall be reported to that or to a subsequent meeting for confirmation.

H. H. SPARKES,
President.
